IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

Do not use if you have had an allergic reaction to LEQVIO or any of its ingredients. The most common side effects of LEQVIO were: injection site reaction (including pain, redness, and rash), joint pain, and chest cold.

These are not all the possible side effects of LEQVIO. Ask your health care provider for medical advice about side effects. You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA. Visit www.fda.gov/medwatch, or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

WHAT IS LEQVIO?

LEQVIO (inclisiran) is an injectable prescription medicine used along with diet and exercise to reduce low-density lipoprotein (LDL-C) or “bad” cholesterol in adults with high blood cholesterol levels called hypercholesterolemia (including a type of high cholesterol called heterozygous familial hypercholesterolemia [HeFH]).

Begin your LEQVIO[®] journey at an Alternate Site of Care (ASOC)

Actor portrayals.

LEQVIO is an injection that is given by your doctor or another health care provider to help lower your bad cholesterol. You'll get your LEQVIO doses at a different medical facility called an ASOC.

What is an Alternate Site of Care (ASOC)?

An ASOC is a medical facility such as a:

Hospital outpatient department

Independent injection/
treatment center

Another doctor's office

How to get your LEQVIO[®] injection at an Alternate Site of Care (ASOC)

Your doctor will contact the ASOC and send them your information.

Then, an ASOC coordinator will:

01

Call you.

The ASOC coordinator will call you from an unknown number. Make sure to answer the call and have your insurance information ready.

02

Verify your insurance.

The ASOC coordinator will perform a benefits investigation/verification to determine your out-of-pocket cost, if any, and provide information on any co-pay assistance programs.

03

Schedule your appointment.

The ASOC coordinator will schedule your LEQVIO appointment. Two visits may be required—one as an initial visit for assessment and another to receive your first LEQVIO injection.

Keep working together with your doctor.
They will still oversee your treatment.
